

Horizons

Words and music by Terah Lynn, (c) 2011

Verse 1

The past is gone, a fleeting song
Its memories fade away
But, far ahead, horizons stretch
Into a brand new day

Verse 2

Live not in the past, but look ahead
For time makes all things new
Open your eyes, for tomorrow comes
And your life waits for you

Verse 3

So follow the Hope that lights your path
Though there be trials, walk on
Wait, for a time, through the darkest hours
For then begins the dawn
